WORKSHOP ON ACCESS TO EMPLOYABILITY

The Art of Living Center for Skill development is proving opportunity to colleges across India to implement life skills and entrepreneurship skill initiative promoted by Art Of Living sister concern IAHV and implemented by SSRDP trust. Mission is to foster a deeper understanding of the values which unite us as a global community. IAHV implements grassroots programs for socioeconomic development, so that human values can flourish in people and communities.

IAHV have partnered with SSRDP to implement Access to Employability initiative for College Final year students, to take a step in the direction of providing college students with a platform to enhance their employability potential.

This proposal of campus to corporate program is mainly focused for Final year students of any stream students who got selected for job for better plug and play work culture or students who are likely to apply for job opportunity or planning for start up.

Skill Gap: NEED FOR SKILL DEVELOPMENT

In 2020, India will have 50 crore youths searching for new job opportunities. India is facing a huge talent gap. The paucity of appropriate employable professional skills is evident, given the fact that over 16,500 colleges with over 99.50 lakh students are unable to cater to the growing employment requirements of the industry.

Thus an intervention to bridge the skill gap by integrating industry required job skills & life skills with the existing curricula would enable in enhancing the employability potential of the college youth.
